If authorization is granted this company to do business here, officials of the Wisconsin cooperative society have said that they would not ask for dissolution of an injunction now restraining that society from disposing of its debentures in Wisconsin.

The new company, according to the plan submitted to the securities division, plans to issue $1,000,000 of preferred stock, paying eight per cent dividends, and $50,000 of common stock. Should the company fail to pay interest on the preferred stock within three years under a provision attached to the plan, a voting interest in its affairs would be given preferred stockholders.

If granted a permit by the securities division, the Wisconsin American Rochdale company plans to buy out the Wisconsin Rochdale companies, number 2 to 10 inclusive, acquiring their assets which include 12 grocery stores, and assuming liabilities. The agreement would be to issue $100 of preferred stock to each $300 of the debentures held in the Wisconsin Rochdale companies.

Investigation of the plan of business of the proposed company is being made by the securities division. Following this investigation, the division will determine whether to authorize the company to do business in Wisconsin.

Investigation of the affairs of the Wisconsin Rochdale companies, made by the securities division of the railroad commission on request of Attorney General Morgan was completed this week.

BLAINE UNABLE TO ATTEND GOVERNORS' MEET NEXT WEEK

MADISON, Wis.—Governor J. J. Blaine will be unable to attend the conference of governors at Charleston, S. C., December 5 to 7, he announced Saturday. His address on "Railroad Rates and State Control," that was to have been given at that time, has been cancelled.

The governor says that state affairs at the present time make it impossible for him to leave the capital for an extended trip, such as that to Charleston, S. C., would require.

IN THE MORNING PAPERS

A Summary of the News

LONDON.—Prime Minister Lloyd George held an interview with the Sinn Fein delegation through Michael Collins, a member of the Irish commission.

WASHINGTON.—A favorable new stage was understood to have been reached in the question of the naval ratio.

GREAT BEND, Kas.—The case of Dr. W. A. Nixon, charged with the murder of Arthur C. Banta, an attorney, went to the jury.

ORLANDO Fla.—Insanity of the defendant was given by a jury as the reason for finding Lena M. Clarke not guilty of killing F. A. Miltimore.

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Executive boards of tea packing plant unions here voted to ignore the order of the Kansas industrial court to appear before the court today.

PARIS.—An appeal from the sentence to die on the guillotine for perpetrating eleven murders was taken by Henri Landru, the "Bluebeard of Cambais."

MAKERS OF WISCONSIN'S CONSTITUTION RECEIVED BUT $120.50 FOR SERVICES IN ADDITION TO THEIR RAILROAD FARE

MADISON, Wis.—The men who made Wisconsin's constitution during December, 1847, and January, 1848, received $120.50 for their services in addition to railroad fare, an auditor's report in the office of the secretary of state here shows.

Signatures of these men who formulated the basic law of the state are found only on the auditor's books where they have received payment of their per diem wages. It has been necessary for the State Historical society recently to get a copy of the names from the receipts in the state department.

Serving the territory in the days before Wisconsin became a state was even less remunerative than at present, the reports of that time show.

A. H. Smith, attorney general in 1847, signed a receipt for his quarterly salary amounting to $62.50. Three months later he drew his salary again for the same amount, while W. Z. Smith, adjutant general, collected $97.50 for each three months that he directed the military forces of the territory.

AT THE THEATERS TODAY
Rivoli—Doris May and Courtenay Foote in "The Bronze Bell"; Harold Lloyd in "I Do."
Majestic—William Russell in "Singing River"; Fox News; Screen Supplement.
Strand—May Allison in the Metro Classic "The Big Game"; Buster Keaton comedy, "Hurricane Hutch."

Cooper's—Hazel Dawn and E. K. Lincoln in "Devotion"; Jimmy Aubrey comedy, "The Back Yard"; seventh episode, "Hurricane Hutch."

"THE BRONZE BELL"—RIVOLI
 Proving itself one of the most remarkable pictures shown here this season, "The Bronze Bell" will be shown the last times today at the Rivoli theatre. The scenes of this admirable pictorialization of the noted Louis Joseph Vance novel, are laid for the greater part in British East India and tell of a rebellion in which the daughter of a British officer and a young American are central figures. The situations are dramatic and thrilling and the love story remarkably massive and effective, as is usual with Thomas H. Ince's production. Courtenay Foote has a dual role of great power while Doris May, a charming actress, plays opposite him. The cast is of exceptional strength artistically and the picture is well worth seeing.

BILL RUSSELL—MAJESTIC
 "Bill" Russell, the big athletic William Fox star, is the attraction at the Majestic theatre in his latest photoplay of western life, "Singing River," which closes today. Russell puts a fine "punch" into the picture and the circumstances demand this "punch," for he has to cope with some very crooked chaps in his endeavor to live decently and make the life of Alice Thompson (Vola Vale) run smoothly. Russell, battling his way to a worth while and honorable objective, is always entertaining. He is especially so in this play and the audience at the Majestic theatre enjoy the picture and Russell's work immensely.

"CAMILLE"—CASINO
 In no other play have so many famous actresses appeared in the stellar role as in "Camille," the picture version of which is being shown for the last time today at the Casino, as a Nazimova production for Metro. Among the list of celebrities who have won fame by their interpretations of this story of love and sacrifice by Alexander Dumas, the younger, are Sarah Bernhardt, Eleonore Duse, Clara Morris, Madame Modjeska, Laura Keane, Mathia Heron, Jean Margaret, Davenport-Laudie, Olga Nethersole and Ethel Barrymore.

MAY ALLISON—RIVIERA
 May Allison, whose latest Metro

picture, "Big Game," will be seen for the last times today at the Riviera theatre, receives fan letters from every point of the and in every language. One of the questions which is asked in great majority in the thousands of letters Miss Allison receives, is whether or not her blonde hair is real or false. Miss Allison has tried to find some way she could let these people know in a convincing way that her hair is her own. She declares that the only solution to the problem she knows is to send them each a strand of hair.

PHILADELPHIA.—The largest class of candidates for Rhodes scholarships since the foundation was established was announced, fifty candidates competing for the thirty-two appointments to Oxford university.

IRISH RELIEF DRIVE DEVELOPS A PRETTY RACE IN THIS STATE

La Crosse, Superior and Green Bay are Fast Coming to the Front in Contributing

Dr. William M. Bannon, chairman of the La Crosse district of the Irish relief committee, made the following announcement today: Though the Milwaukee district is leading in the total subscriptions received to date, in the Wisconsin campaign of the American Committee for Relief in Ireland, the three other districts, La Crosse, Superior and Green Bay are fast coming to the fore, and each Milwaukee will hold its lead as a problematical. The campaign has developed into a very pretty three-cornered race between the other three districts and Superior which has just started its campaign promises to lead all the others at the present rate of progress.

"We should be proud to go before the public with this appeal," said Charles O'Hara, state chairman, "as we have no excuses to offer. We are in a measure paying back to the Irish people, the help that they have extended to this country at various times since the formation of our republic. Ireland needs assistance and needs it badly today. It will not be said that this nation has refused to answer the call."

The continued rioting in Belfast has increased the demand being made upon the Irish White Cross for aid and they are practically dependent upon the money raised in this country for their finances. No distinction is made by this organization, supporters of all religious beliefs or political faiths are treated impartially.

The non-sectarian and non-political features of this relief work is constantly being emphasized by the various county chairmen, not only in their talks but in their appointments of sub-chairmen and workers. Probably as many workers of other nationalities are taking part in this appeal as there are those of Irish extraction. Every effort is being put forth to close the campaign before the holidays set in and from present indications the quota will be fully raised within a short time.

Anyone wishing to contribute to the fund can do so at the La Crosse State Bank of La Crosse, to the Irish headquarters in the State bank building, or to John C. Burns, the treasurer.

EQUITY WINDS UP CONVENTION WITH ANNUAL ELECTION

Officers are Chosen at Friday Session by Close Majorities

EAU CLAIRE, Wis.—With the presidential contest disposed of at a midnight session the previous night, the convention of the Wisconsin American Society of Equity rapidly completed the election of officers at the final session Friday. The closeness of the vote by which L. C. Pomeroy was re-elected president over George A. Nelson, assemblyman from Polk county—146 to 128—was reflected in the contests disposed of at the noon session Friday when a vice president, a treasurer, and forty-five directors were named.

C. D. Hawn of Pierce county was elected vice president over C. E. Delagrange of Durand, incumbent, by a vote of 433 to 426. J. C. and J. A. Rayburn of Dunn county, former vice president under J. N. Tittlemore, were elected to the newly created office of treasurer, 510 to 239, over S. B. Ingraham, also of Dunn county. Hawn is classified an anti-administration and it was predicted the anti-administration forces might control the executive board which will consist of the president and vice president and other members to be elected from the board of directors by its own memberships.

HAD 17TH HUSBAND PICKED AS OFFICERS BLOCKED HER GAME

Much-wedded Woman Tells How She Worked Matrimonial Allotment Plan

CHICAGO, Ill.—Federal agents broke up Mrs. Helene Drexler's matrimonial government allotment plan just as she was making plans to marry her seventeenth husband in three years, according to her story Saturday to Captain Thomas I. Porter of the secret service. By listing as the son of each husband, the little boy born from her second experience in matrimony she added $5 a month extra to flood of allotment checks she received from the government, she said. Federal officials calculated she had received $500 a month. "I was working in Boston when I met Wilfred Taylor," she related. "The draft got him and soon after coming in France he was killed." Mrs. Drexler's brother also was killed in action overseas, and her little boy is Wilfred Taylor's son. "I had to go to work or get married," she said. Several months afterward her husband joined the navy, so I got two allotment checks, John Kelly of the Brooklyn navy yards, was the next. I left him and married another sailor. "Dear me, I can't remember all the names. Finally, I came to Chicago and married three sailors in quick succession, Albert Drexler, a Camp Grant soldier, was the sixth. I had a sailor picked out for the next but your agents arrested me."

WEIKERT ADDRESS FEATURES TENT AND AWNING MEET FRIDAY

St. Paul Man Gives Interesting Lecture Before Convention Being Held Here

The Friday afternoon session of the sixth annual convention of the Wisconsin Tent and Awning Manufacturers' association convened at the Chamber of Commerce at 2 o'clock. C. I. Weikert, chairman board of directors of the National Tent and Awning Manufacturers' association, was called upon as the first speaker and offered many suggestions and hints to the affairs of local organizations.

Dealing in general with the tent and awning business, Mr. Weikert declared that those people in the business must consider and pay a great deal of attention to cost. He pointed out in detail and explained before the convention the workings of material, labor and overhead cost in the operation of business. The speaker dwelt at length on the necessity of figuring closely on overhead expense, adding that many dealers were not in a position to make a fair charge for their merchandise in view of their ignorance of the cost of production.

Must Co-operate

Mr. Weikert continued that in order to insure success dealers must lend themselves unselfishly in the matter of co-operation. He advocated that dealers spend more time in organizing a campaign for business, rather than "crab" on the job that his nearest competitor might have secured. He pointed to this as an evil which men in the tent and awning business must overcome to be really successful. Mr. Weikert also advocated a sub-marketing bureau where current prices of material would be announced to manufacturers as often as every two weeks. In conclusion, Mr. Weikert spoke of the virtues of collective advertising. Apportioned funds from each of the local associations ought to be contributed to advertising, he said, and much more would be gained through this system.

Philip Porter, Duluth, substituted on the program for A. H. Buchanan, secretary of the Tent and Awning Manufacturers' association, and spoke concerning the Northwestern association and its object. Mr. Porter read several letters endorsing the association written by various men of the business.

Standardize Awnings

J. J. Munson, secretary of the Milwaukee Tent and Awning association, offered a few remarks on the standardization of awnings. Mr. Munson told of the city ordinance in Milwaukee regarding the size and specifications relative to the installing of awnings in that city. He advocated a standardization of awnings.

STOLE WHILE AT WORK AS MAID IN LOS ANGELES HOME

Woman Caught in West at Same Trick She Was Arrested for in Chicago

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Erta Belle Heil, former wife of a wealthy Chicago broker, was under arrest here Friday charged with the theft of jewelry, clothing and a revolver from the residence of Samuel Wood, a motion picture director, where she had obtained employment as a maid. According to police the stolen articles were found in Mrs. Heil's residence in a fashionable part of Los Angeles, which she had leased.

Mrs. Heil confessed the robbery, police asserted, and said she was "sorry."

Mrs. Heil's story, police said, was that she had spent her monthly allowance of $200 from her husband's estate and as no more was due until January she sought employment at the Wood residence as a maid.

Divorced at Chicago

CHICAGO, Ill.—Joseph Heil, a wealthy Chicago broker, recently obtained a divorce from Mrs. Erta Heil and custody of their two children after she was released by police from charges of robbing residences where she was employed as a maid.

The Heil home here was found filled with furnishings Mrs. Heil had stolen, it is alleged, but which she told her husband she had purchased.

Heil offered to restore the stolen articles and the charges were dropped. He endeavored to have her removed to a sanitarium for treatment.

PENN STATE PLAYS WASHINGTON "U" AT SEATTLE SATURDAY

SEATTLE, Wash.—When Huskies' Penn State football team returns to the field here Saturday in a game against the University of Washington, western football adherents will see a team noted for several peculiarities in gridiron play. One is that Beitzek has been an exponent of fitness and he attempts to start a team that is in perfect physical condition and play this team through the entire game. He has demonstrated that this system is good, if results are to be taken into consideration for the team has not met defeat this season and has only one tie, that with Harvard which went to a 21-21 score.

Up to Thanksgiving Day, when Penn State and Pittsburgh met in their annual Turkey Day clash, Penn State had rolled up 230 points to their opponents in the eight games played.

The squad is a large one, forty-nine men making up the team that has played this year. The team's record of games previous to the Thanksgiving Day game was:

Penn State, 53; Lebanon Valley, 0.
Penn State, 24; Gettysburg, 0.
Penn State, 35; North Carolina State, 0.
Penn State, 28; Lehigh, 7.
Penn State, 21; Harvard, 21.
Penn State, 28; Carnegie Tech, 7.

THREE WESTERN MEN PICKED FOR BILLY EVANS' MYTHICAL ALL-AMERICAN GRID ELEVEN

First Team	Position	Second Team
Macomber, Harvard	End	Swanson, Nebraska
Slater, Iowa	Tackle	McGill, Chicago
Brown, Harvard	Guard	H. Anderson, Notre Dame
Stein, Pittsburgh	Center	Wittmer, Princeton
Carney, Annopolis	Guard	Unkshank, Yale
Kock, Princeton	Tackle	Huffman, Ohio State
Kiley, Notre Dame	End	H. Anderson, Notre Dame
Devine, Iowa	Quarterback	McMillin, Cornell
Killinger, Penn State	Halfback	Kay, Cornell
Alldrich, Yale	Halfback	Tommy, California
Owen, Harvard	Fullback	Davis, Pittsburgh

Picking an All-America football team is purely a matter of personal opinion.

When there are three or four players so nearly equal, that it is practically impossible to determine one as being better than another, a certain player may cause a great many to pick him. On the other hand another player may appeal just as strongly to as many others, for some feature of play at which he is most proficient.

In selecting an All-America team for 1921, the most difficult thing for me was to reach a decision between Killinger of Penn State, Devine of Iowa and McMillin of Cornell for the position of quarterback.

Seldou has any season produced three such great field generals, all of them skilled in every department of the game.

Quarterback
Devine of Iowa stands out as one of the greatest players the game has ever produced, east or west.

Coch Howard Jones of Iowa, the former Yale star, says of Devine: "I would be willing to go back 20 years on any All-America team and place Devine at quarter." That is certainly some praise.

Coch Williams of Minnesota says: "Devine is the greatest quarterback the west has ever produced. He rules higher than either Johnny McGovern or Walter Eckersall." More praise.

Killinger is unquestionably the cream of the east, the greatest running back of the year. He has been the big noise in the remarkable success of Penn State.

McMillin's great ability is too well known to need much comment. He is the best defensive quarterback in the game. A hard tackler and a player who seems to sense the plays, and always is in the proper spot.

Halfbacks
My first thought was to place Devine at quarter and use Killinger at one half and McMillin at the other. In modern football there is only a very slight difference between the quarterback and halfback position.

That combination would have given me a great quarterback in Devine. Since Killinger had always played halfback until this year, he would be perfectly at home. That would have given me the greatest running back of the year, McMillin, who is rated as the best defensive quarter, would have supplied me with a fine defensive back. In addition McMillin is as good on the offensive.

Only the great work of Captain Alldrich of Yale caused me to shift my plans. Alldrich has been the leading half back of the east. He is a most remarkable player, and there is really no way of keeping him off the team. That fact alone causes me to shift McMillin to my second team.

Fullback
Some critics might have objected to the use of three quarterbacks in the backfield. In order to have had some authority for such a radical change, I discussed the possibility with Coach Rockne of Notre Dame, one of the greatest football mentors. Here is how he viewed the suggestion:

"I think it is entirely proper to shift Killinger and McMillin to the halfback positions. In fact a very logical thing to do, since both of these men are such wonderful players, that it would be unfair to leave them out. In modern football there is very little difference between a halfback and quarterback. At fullback I have placed Owen of Harvard. Owen is the best of the year at that position. He can punt, drop kick, throw the forward pass, and is one of the best line blockers in the history of the game. He is the best type modern back.

Macomber of Harvard is the best end in the east and wins one of the positions. I was tempted to place Anderson and Kiley of Notre Dame at the ends, but Macomber is so good he cannot be overlooked.

There is very little to choose between Anderson and Kiley. The latter showed to the best advantage in the east and to my way of thinking has a slight edge. He is a wonder at picking a forward pass out of the air.

Coach Rockne of Notre Dame says of his two men: "I really have no choice between the two. I regard them as the two best ends in the country."

NAT RULES OF BIG TEN ARE CHANGED AT ANNUAL MEET

Gymnastic, Wrestling and Fencing Championships to be Held at Wisconsin

CHICAGO, Ill.—Selection of officers, revision of rules and adoption of a method to determine winning teams and individuals were the salient features of the annual meeting of the Western Intercollegiate Gymnastic, Wrestling and Fencing Association held at the Auditorium Friday, E. C. Schneider of the University of Iowa was elected president of the association and F. E. Schellert of Wisconsin selected secretary and treasurer. It was voted to hold the gymnastic, wrestling, and fencing championships at Wisconsin on March 17 and 18.

Title Meet March 17, 18
It was agreed that the championship meet be determined on a percentage basis of meets won and lost. Each team must state at least four meets with other members of the association, but the maximum was set at six.

Four individuals in each class having the highest percentage will meet for the individual titles at Wisconsin on March 17 and 18. In case of a tie a committee of three, to be appointed by President Schneider, will select the finalists. Wrestlers who meet in the finals must be at weight, but in the preliminary schedule an agreement of give or take two pounds will be in effect. A wrestler to be eligible for the championships must take part in four meets.

Matches Only One Fall
Instead of the grapplers meeting in best two out of three fall matches, it was voted to hold only one bout. The time was set at twelve minutes. If the referee cannot render a decision, the bout shall continue for two or three minute periods. The referee shall toss a coin to determine which grappler shall go to the mat for the first three minutes.

The loser will assume the upper position at the beginning of the second three minute period. If the referee cannot give a decision at the end of the two periods, the bout shall be called a draw and the points divided between the contending teams.

Charley Magner of Ames and Dr. R. G. Clapp of Nebraska were the only representatives of institutions not members of the Big Ten. Tentative dates for dual meets were set and the complete list completed at Saturday's session.
